Centsible Kids Board Game

RULES:

First, you will need a six-sided die. Color the game and cut out the game pieces below (or make your own). Each player rolls and moves that number of spaces. Follow the instructions on the space you land on. The first one to the finish wins!

START	Tell the other players one BAD thing to do with your money.	You brought a bag lunch to school. Smart! Move ahead 2 spaces.	You put money in your savings. Yay! Follow the arrow!	Tell the other players one NEED and one WANT.
				You babysat and made some money. Great! Roll again!
You spent all your allowance on candy. Yikes! Lose a turn.	You spent all your money at the mall. Follow the arrow back.	You started a college fund. Awesome! Follow the arrow!	Tell the other players why saving is so important.	You did some volunteer work. Nice! Roll again!
You saved for a goal. Awesome! Move ahead 3 spaces!
You did all of your chores! Great! Roll again!	You donated to a charity. Move ahead 1 space!	Tell the other players one GOOD thing to do with your money.	You lost your passbook. Oh dear! Lose a turn.	FINISH

Six Fun Facts about the U.S. Mint

1. The first Philadelphia Mint used horses to power the machines that produced coinage.
2. George Washington donated some of his personal silver for manufacturing early coinage.
3. The Mint's original coins were made of gold, silver and copper.
4. The Lincoln cent is the only circulating coin produced on which the portrait faces to the right.
5. Designers' initials can be found on each circulating coin.
6. All U.S. coinage is produced with what is commonly called a "coin turn." That means that the reverse side (tails) of the coin is upside down to the obverse side (heads).

Make the New Year Great!

There are plenty of ways to make 2014 even better than 2013! Here are some ideas:

- 1. Start a new good habit! Go for a walk or play outside everyday. Take art or music lessons. Volunteer for a good cause. Save more money in your account. Think of other ways you can be a smarter, healthier and happier person.
  - 2. Stop a bad habit. Stop doing something that is bad for you, like eating junk food or going to bed late. Whatever bad habit you decide to stop, you will feel much better in no time! Ask a parent or older relative for help if you need it.
  - 3. Be a nicer person. We already know you're nice, but every person can find even more ways to be kind to others.
  - 4. Write down your own idea here:
